

EcoRus workshop 1st June 2010

*Changes in northern ecosystem services;
What is the importance for resource-dependent communities?*

WORKSHOP PROGRAM

09.00-09.20 Presentation of the TUNDRA project by project leader
Dr. Vera H. Hausner

09.20-09.30 Questions and Discussions

09.30-10.15 The multidimensional concept of ecosystem services
Prof. Terry Chapin, University of Alaska. Terry Chapin has worked with ecosystem services in northern regions. He is currently the president of the Ecological Society of America.

10.30-11.15 How to identify resource-dependent communities?
Prof. Richard Stedman, Cornell University, USA. Stedman works with natural resources and environmental sociology.

11.15-12.00 Resource dependency of indigenous people in the circumpolar region
Dr. Konstantin Klokov, SPSU. Klokov has, together with Johnny-Leo Jernsletten (PostDoc, UiTø), previously compiled and analyzed data on indigenous people and natural resources in circumpolar regions.

12.00-13.00 Lunch

13.00-13.45 Ecosystem Finnmark
Prof. Rolf A. Ims, University of Tromsø, is the project leader of Ecosystem Finnmark, which is an interdisciplinary project in the interface of ecology and social sciences.

13.45-14.30 Discussions

Place: University Campus Teorifagsbygget house 4, room 2413

The workshop is open to public

WELCOME!

